

Family Harmony

Solo: No more fightin' over TV shows.

Try bein' friends instead of bein' foes.

No more tattletalein', moanin' and a wailin'.

Please, kids, can't you see that what we need 'round here
is family harmony.

Solo: No more fightin' over video games.

And please don't call each other nasty names.

Stop that awful whinin'. Things could be just fine, and you'd get along, you see, if what we had 'round here
is family harmony.

Mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers,

Ev'rybody lovin' each other.

Mothers, fathers, sons and daughters,

You know that blood is thicker than water.

You're gonna find when all the chips are down

it's nice to have your family hangin' 'round.

There to see you through it, tell you you can do it.

They'll be there, yes sirree.

But first, you're gonna need some family harmony.

Just try it and you'll see. It's easy as can be, with family harmony.
