

We're Gonna Stitch And Sew

Now, pay attention and listen to me. Only those wise enough will see
The King's new clothes as they were meant to be. Uh, huh, huh.
And this is how it's gonna be; the threads are only for the wise to see.
So let's get started with our spinning bee. Uh, huh, huh.

We're gonna stitch, stitch, stitch and sew.
We're gonna weave up high and weave down low.
We're gonna make the coolest rags you've ever seen.
We're gonna cut, cut, cut and hem.
We're gonna gather in, and tuck and trim.
We're gonna make the slickest threads fit for a king.

Well, you know it takes a lot of skill to stitch and sew just right.
But when they're done with the magic suit, it's gonna be a sight!

We're gonna cut, cut, cut and hem. We're gonna gather in, and tuck and trim.
We're gonna make the slickest threads fit for a king.

Now raise your right arm above your head. Lean to the left till you're turning red.
Straighten up, look around and take a walk.
Now snap your fingers; bend down low. Take four steps from heel to toe.
Hop on back. You're doin' the Emperor Rock.

Hop on back. You're doin' the Emperor Rock.
Rock. Rock. Rock. Doin' the Emperor Rock!
